School Education in India Jan 01 2020 The Book focuses on the probable Demand and outturn of teachers in India at School Stage. An attempt has been made by authors to estimate the requirement of teachers in school and their outturn from the teachers training institutes and the Education colleges. This exercises has been done for all levels i.e., Primary middle, High and Higher Secondary for India and various states. The various scenarios are drawn assuming the employment rates as 70, 80, 90 and 100 per cent. It has been noted through this analysis that there exist a gap between the requirement and availability of teachers. The requirement seems to be on the higher side and it increases as the enrolment rate is enhance upward. Secondly, the book highlights that there are still existence of untrained teachers in different states. The percentage of untrained teachers varies among the states. A training plan has also been made in this book to give some idea of expenditure in order to train the untrained teachers.
